State Game Warden

The quail season will soon open in this county and I am desirous and very anxious that every sportsman observe the game laws and purchase his hunting license before he goes hunting. Heretofore the game laws have not been observed as they should have been, and the result has been that the game has been destroyed without protection.

I am appointing deputy wardens in your county for the protection of your game and fish and this department is anxious indeed that all sportsmen cooperate with me and see that the game laws are enforced and that every hunter buys his license. Your license fund goes to this department to help defray the expenses of enforcing the law for the protection of game and fish, and the law provides that the department must live within its revenue; or, in other words, they can use no fund except that derived from the sale of licenses and fines from their convictions.

I am trying to make you a good warden. I am a sportsman and I know that the majority of the sportsmen in your county are real men and glad to assist the department all they can; and can render this department valuable service by speaking a good word for the protection of the game to your friends and neighbors, and insist that they equip themselves with hunting licenses before the season opens. I am trying to enforce the laws on a high plane and I am instructing my warden to disregard frivolous cases, but to prosecute the wilful violators.

The revenue in some counties is so small it is impossible to employ a warden at a salary until the revenue derived from the county is sufficient to justify the department to pay salaries.

I will greatly appreciate all cooperation and investigation of the deputy, I expect every sportsman and the citizens generally to assist me to stock every stream in Tennessee with fine fish, but before I can do so, I must have the full cooperation and the dynamiting, seining will have to be stopped.

C. P. WILLIAMS, Game Warden.

Fairview Notes

Our Secretary, Miss Ada Mary Johnson, has been ill all this week. It is needless to say that she has been badly missed at school.

Mrs. Ben Pleasants is quite ill. This has kept the Pleasants children at home. Also some few pupils have been out of school this week finishing up cotton picking. All these together have combined to run our attendance for the week the lowest of the season so far. We hope that we shall have a full attendance once again next week.

Not long ago in conversation with an intelligent man, he remarked that his children attended a rural school. Happening to know the school I remarked that they had a new building at that place. "Yes," he said, with evident pride, "the county furnished the material and we built the house."

Much good work has been done in this county recently in the way of erecting buildings etc. We trust that the good work may go on until not only the children in the towns but in rural districts as well may have comfortable, sanitary, well-appointed buildings. All of these things mean much to our children and to each community.

A stranger passing through a community judges the people by the schools. A progressive up-to-date, community and a dilapidated, fallen to pieces school building with an inefficient teacher and school do not go together.
